Grant No. RF1AG087325-01 (Dobbs, PI).

Palliative Care Education in Assisted Living for Care Providers of Residents with Dementia

Florida Department of Health Ed and Ethel Moore Alzheimer's Disease Research Program

(Grant No 9AZ26) Dobbs, Debra (PI). 02/01/19 – 06/28/21

Award Amount: $250,000

We propose to conduct a two-year cluster randomized trial (CRT) among 12 AL facilities (k=12) and PWD (N=225) with a baseline, 3, and 6 months post-intervention to examine the quality of care outcomes for PWD: 1) appropriate hospice referral and use; 2) increased assessment of pain; and 3) increased documentation of ACP.

Strategic Approach to Facilitating Evacuation by Health Assessment of Vulnerable Elderly in Nursing Homes II (SAFEHAVEN II)

R01AG060581, National Institute on Aging Hyer, Kathryn (PI) 09/01/18-05/31/22

Vulnerable older adults in residential long-term care are at risk of injury and death in disasters. This study aims to examine the effect of two recent powerful hurricanes in Texas and Florida on the health and safety of residents of nursing homes and assisted living communities. This research will provide evidence to improve critical disaster planning and response to help protect the lives of vulnerable older adults.

Role: Co-Investigator

COVID19 Supplement to SAFEHAVEN II

R01AG060581 03S1, National Institute on Aging Andel, Ross (PI) 9/08/20 – 12/31/22

Building on our current study of hurricane responses in long-term care and using a mixed-methods approach, we will analyze the effect of the COVID-19 emergency, focusing on residents with Alzheimer's disease and/or related dementias. Results will add to our current research to inform disaster planning that more broadly protects vulnerable older adults from harm.

Role: Co-Investigator

Visually-Assisted Mindful Music Listening Intervention for Persons Living with Dementia and Their Caregivers: A Pilot Study

Florida Department of Health, Ed and Ethel Moore Alzheimer's Disease Research Program

(Grant No. 9AZ28) Meng, Hongdao (PI) 04/01/19 to 05/31/21

Award Amount: $95,000

The goal of this project is to develop and pilot test a brief mindfulness-based music listening intervention to reduce behavioral expressions among persons living with dementia and improve sleep, reduce stress among family caregivers.

Role: Co-Investigator

MODELS AND METHODS FOR AN ACTIVE AGEING WORKFORCE (MAIA)

European Union Horizon 2020

MSCA-RISE-2019: Marie Skłodowska-Curie Research and Innovation Staff Exchange (RISE)

Battini, Daria, PI, University of Padova 12/31/19 to 12/01/25.

The aim of this research was to foster the inclusion of ageing workers in the industrial system as much as possible by enhancing their motivation and expertise. The project is aimed at strengthening research collaboration through active networking, staff exchange and dissemination activities between 7 European universities from Italy, Germany, France and Slovenia as well as 6 non-European universities from USA, Japan, New Zealand, Hong Kong and Canada. The international exchanges of experts in the field of ageing enabled knowledge sharing via international/inter-sectoral mobility, exchanges of research staff to turn creative ideas into age-friendly manufacturing system design and management.

Role: Steering Committee for USF/US Site.

Feasibility of Implementing the Palliative Care Education in Assisted Living (PCEAL) Program.

College of Behavioral and Community Sciences 2016 Faculty Internal Awards Program.

Principal Investigator -- Debra Dobbs 02/01/2016 - 01/31/2017.

Award Amount: $25,000

This study tested an intervention using the Palliative Care Education in Assisted Living program at baseline, 3 and 6 months and examined quality of care outcomes (pain, hospice use, documentation of advance directives) in a sample of residents (N=30) from 3 ALs in Florida.

USF Foundation Funding

Dobbs, D. Principal Investigator

Award Amount: $2,049.00

Dates: May, 2013 - August, 2013

The purpose of this project was to explore the willingness of older Korean-American elders to engage in advance care planning using data from the Korean American Elders study (Jang, PI).

Autonomy in Assisted Living: A Cultural Analysis.

National Institute on Aging Grant No. 1R01AG032442-01A2

Co-Principal Investigators: Bob Rubinstein, and Ann Christine Frankowski, (University Maryland Baltimore Co.)

Dates: 09/01/10 to 08/31/14

Award Amount: $537,000

The proposed research has three specific aims: 1) To examine the meaning and context for autonomy as these are worked out in six distinctive assisted living settings; 2) To better understand the on-the-ground process of negotiating autonomy in these settings; 3) To examine in detail, and based on prior research, resident autonomy in relation to the six emergent themes of autonomy that provide the conceptual framework for this research. The proposed research will ethnographically examine in six settings, the meaning and context, and the negotiation of autonomy, through periods of sequential field work combining participant observation and interviewing.

Affordable Assisted Living and The Woodwork Effect

Contract with NCB Development Corporation

Principal Investigator: Debra Dobbs, Ph.D.

Dates: 07/01/05 to 06/30/06.

Award Amount: $21,397

The primary purpose of this study was to report how many of the current Medicaid residents of the Coming Home Program demonstrations would have gone to a nursing facility (NF) if assisted living (AL) had not been available. Conversely, we determined how many of the current residents would not have gone to a nursing facility if the assisted living had not been available.
