

— 2021 Speaker Series on Race & Counseling —

How Biases Affect Racism

William E. Hudson, SR, PhD, CRC, CHS
University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Abstract: This presentation will explore the ways in which biases affect racism. It will discuss the role of implicit bias in the development of racism and the ways in which biases can be identified and addressed. The presentation will also discuss the ways in which biases can be used to justify racism and the ways in which biases can be used to challenge racism.

About William E. Hudson, SR, PhD, CRC, CHS

William E. Hudson, SR, PhD, CRC, CHS is an Associate Professor and the Director of the Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in the Department of Counseling and Human Services at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. He has a PhD in Counseling Psychology from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte and a Master's degree in Counseling from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. He is also a Certified Counselor (CRC) and a Certified Human Services Professional (CHS). He has published numerous articles and books on the topics of race, ethnicity, and counseling. He is currently working on a book titled "The Color of Racism: A Guide to Understanding and Addressing Racial Bias in the Workplace." He is also a frequent speaker at national and international conferences on race and ethnicity.

March 23, 2021

12:00 PM